Convention Recap & more...

Doug Wayne, President
Oakland P.D.—Retired

I hope everyone's holiday season fulfilled their expectations! We recently completed our 91st Annual Convention in Carson City, NV. It was a very successful convention for the seventeen to thirty of us who attended. The numbers changed with the different events. I'd have to say, the weather-gods were shinning down on us this year. For a month and a half, leading up to the convention, I could not see the Sierra mountains through the smoke. I had even inquired as to setting up another function, indoors, in lieu of the Tuesday BBQ, outside at our home. However, two days before the start of the convention I woke to being able to see the Sierra! That lasted through the last day, Wednesday, and then on Thursday the smoke returned. We could not have asked for anything better.

Sunday, the first unofficial night of the convention, was the Past President's dinner, which we held at Ti Amo, inside the convention casino. Prior to the convention I reached out to all the past presidents residing in the Northern Nevada region and was very happy to see two old faces, Tom Bailey and Jeff Justus, along with their wives (Renee & Lesley), attend the dinner. Other past presidents who attended were Dennis & Rhoda Brown, Jim & Winnie Davis, and Mike & Jeanie Rores. Joining the group at dinner were Director's Ed Pressnell and Larry & LaRene Hodson, along with George & Barbara Firchow (pronounced Fir-CO). Your welcome George.

Monday, we were back at the casino, this time in the ballroom, for a nice luncheon. Joining the above-mentioned dinner group were Steve & Irene Armbruster, Rich Baily & Kim Wirht, Pete Deshler, Cliff & Mickie Heanes, Pearl & Olga Lucas, Mary Ann Mann, and Rene Laprevotte (we'd see Susan a bit later). After lunch we held the General Membership meeting (see write-up regarding the meeting following this section). At the conclusion of the meeting, we held the "Lofthouse" drawing, which this year was won by Pete Deshler, Oakland PD. That prize pays for next year's convention registration.

After the meeting, it was time for the "Name that Movie" game, which was a huge hit. Everyone walked away with at least one prize and many with multiple prizes.

I'm not sure I can duplicate the game theme at next year's convention, but we'll see.

The largest turnout of the convention was Tuesday's BBQ at our home, here in Minden. If anyone left my house hungry it certainly wasn't my fault because, as usual, I cooked enough for an army, smoking nine racks of ribs and six whole chickens, and grilling thirty large Hawaiian and smoked bratwurst sausages. Then there were trays of side dishes, along with Bill Weber's "famous" (so he says) Caesar salad. Fortunately, for anyone wanting to take BIG doggie-bags with them I was certainly able to accommodate them. Along with the aforementioned attendees we had a couple people drop in to join us for the BBQ, including local MMOC members Rosanne Farmer and Lori Lee (I would like to thank Lori for providing the extra tables and chairs, which were a must for this event). Also attending was the above-mentioned, Bill Weber, and his friend Margie, and TJ O'Connor. I would like to thank all those who stayed around to help wash dishes and clean up. I am not sure what everyone did Tuesday night but me, I stayed home – I was toast!

The last day, Wednesday, was a bit different from those of some of the recent conventions. In perusing through very old MMOC yearbooks, I noticed that there were many activities just for the ladies. My wife, Cathy, and I thought that this convention being in our backyard, so to speak, it would be the perfect opportunity to do something special for the ladies. Cathy arranged to take all the ladies on a short shopping & lunch excursion in the Gardnerville/Minden area. The first stop was Sagebrush Soap Factory, which is actually at a woman's home in Gardnerville. Not only has she built a quaint store on her property but attached is a modern-day barn, which was a perfect place for the ladies to have lunch and sip on their favorite beverage. Their next stop was "Especially For You", a one-stop boutique and gift shop. The last planned stop was "Cottonwood Creek Gifts" in Minden. The unplanned stop, which was "The Corner Bar", was right next-door. I am told the ladies were amazed at the lack of open container enforcement in Minden as some sat on outside benches as well as others literally sitting on the curb sipping away. While the ladies were doing their thing, myself and about five other riders (not all MMOC members) took a leisurely motorcycle ride from the hotel through the backroads into old Virginia City and then back out through "6-mile canyon road" and into Yerington, where we had a nice lunch at the Tailgater Sports Grill. We rode back through Smith Valley, along the Carson River, and back to the hotel. It was a four-hour adventure and a really nice ride.

Wednesday night was the President's Ball. The social hour included watching LAPD motor school videos as well as OPD, LAPD and San Jose PD drill team videos. After dinner, and prior to the door prize giveaway, we had a few presentations. Rhoda Nishiyama was recognized by the entire group for her continued support and work she has done, and continues to do, for MMOC. Also recognized for his loyalty to MMOC for the past twenty-one years, was Cliff Heanes, who was awarded a "Lifetime Associate Member." His "Certificate of Loyalty" is listed later in this issue. The last order of the night was the door prize giveaway. Among all the other prizes given away, there were three TVs, the 50" TV being the grand prize. Now, I do not know what the odds are of someone winning the grand prize TV at the past two conventions, but they must be pretty darn long, but that is exactly what happened. In 2019, in La Quinta, Irene Armbruster won the 32" TV. This year Steve & Irene drove all the way from Florida just so Irene could go home with the grand prize, the 50" TV. Maybe if we change the grand prize next year someone else may get a chance to win.

I guess this was a busy convention because by the time I sat down to relax a bit and listen to the tunes provided by our one-and-only DJ, Rynell Williams, I looked around and everyone had left. It was only 10 PM! The party was supposed to go until 11 o'clock. So, after clearing everything out of the ballroom I thought I would go over to the hospitality room and say our final goodbyes. It was VACANT! "WHAT-THE-HEY." So, to all of you so-called PARTIERS, goodbye & I hope to see you next year!

Again, I would like to thank everyone who lent me a hand at various times throughout this year's convention. Also, I would be remiss if I did not recognize the hard work Cathy (my better half) put in preparing for just about every aspect of this year's convention, especially the highly successful ladies outing. Cathy had her own large organization's convention she was preparing for in November in Las Vegas, yet she took the time to ensure everything was covered at MMOC's convention. I cannot thank her enough!

Bad Choice

At the cocktail party, one woman said to the another, "Aren't you wearing your ring on the wrong finger?"

The other replied, "Yes, I am. I married the wrong man."

MMOC's Future

The Onus Is On You !

At the General Membership meeting, held on 13 September 2021 in Carson City, there was a discussion regarding agenda Item #9, The Future of MMOC. I passed out a copy of MMOC goals from a 1930 publication as a reference for discussion. In part, it stated in 1928, MMOC was formed with many goals and purposes, including motor officer safety & well-being, and to assist the state legislature in formalizing statewide traffic laws.

A once vibrant organization, with three to four-thousand members, it has continually dwindled down to a membership currently in the neighborhood just north of three-hundred members. I know, from the handwritten notes on membership renewal notices I receive, that many of you are very proud to be members of this storied organization and are very thankful for the work and time our volunteers put in to keep us afloat.

MMOC no longer has any input into traffic safety laws and have truly little contact with police agencies and their traffic units. We have become a social organization with one charitable goal of donating to the "Every 15 Minutes" campaign. Our annual convention is attended by basically the same twenty core people, and the same ten core people for the annual motorcycle ride. The current Board of Directors, which usually are two-year terms, are going on five-plus years. Three members, and one unofficial member, manage ten-plus jobs and duties within the organization.

A healthy organization needs to evolve with a constant influx and rotation of new leaders and fresh ideas. Over the years we have asked for members to step up and become directors and help with the duties within the organization. Few have stepped up. We are a fiscally sound organization. While obtaining new members will always be a long-term goal if MMOC is to continue into the next decade, in the present it is not a priority. What is a priority is the transition into new leadership with the current membership.

At the General Membership meeting we discussed how long someone, with no working knowledge of our organization's inner workings, would need to serve as a director to ascend through the vice-president position and into the President's position. We felt, at a minimum, this would take a two-year period. During that period, the director would attend on-line Zoom board meetings and would be expected to attend the annual convention. It would also be advisable for a new director to attend any other MMOC function, at least once, to have some working knowledge of said activity. I will expound more this and other MMOC duties/jobs in the section after this article.

Upon completion of discussion about the future of MMOC a motion was made by Dennis Brown and seconded by George Firchow that stated:

"That, at a minimum, if three new directors are not elected by 2026 then MMOC will cease operation by 2028".

(For clarification, in order to serve the 2026 session a Director must be voted to the Board at the September 2025 Convention)

The vote was put to the attending membership, which passed by a majority, with one dissenting vote. I spoke to the dissenting voter whose only opposition was the period stated in the motion feeling that the deadline for new directors should have been sooner than 2026.

So, please ruminate over what you have just read. The ONUS is on you, the membership. Some feel the organization has run its course. If you feel otherwise, it's time to step up. If you have any questions please contact me and we can discuss at length.

Old Flame...

A couple was dining out when the wife noticed a familiar face at the bar. She recognized him as an old flame.

"Honey," she said to her husband, as she pointed out the man, "that guy at the bar has been drinking like that since I left him seven years ago."

Her husband replied, "That's silly, no one celebrates that much!"

MMOC Positions and Tasks

As I stated in the "MMOC's Future" article the need for volunteers continues to be ever-present. I've listed the positions and duties that make up 99% of the work to keep this organization functioning. You will see that many "Positions" are currently filled, however they are all available as ALL of the people in those positions have been there for many years. If you are not sure if you want to become a Director but would like to know a bit more about how we operate you can certainly take on one of the "Tasks" listed to get your feet wet. Also, ANY MEMBER can attend the Zoom board meetings, which will also give you some insight as to MMOC's inner workings. I have formulated a list of functions for the below listed positions and duties which I can either discuss with you or send to interested members.

Once again, the future of the organization is up to you!

Key the classic theme song from the infamous Dragnet series of the 50's, 60's and 70's starring iconic actors Jack Webb and Harry Morgan.

It's a hot day this 12th day of September, 2021 as we pull into Carson City, Nevada's Courtyard by Marriot to celebrate MMOC's 91st Annual Convention. The sky is a little hazy with warm sun penetrating through remnants of disastrous forest fires throughout California and parts of Nevada as we glide to a stop at our hotel. When I cut the ignition on our 911S, the hot exhaust crackles and Rhoda takes a breath, savoring quiet tranquility as opposed to my, ahem, "driving style" for the last 250 miles and the incessant high RPM shrill of the Porsche driven in anger.

Silence is golden but short lived as I sashay into the lobby, Rhoda dutifully following with luggage-in-tow; SFPD's George Firchow blurts out "hey Brownie" at 200 decibels, his lovely bride Barbara is far more reserved yet no less receptive to our arrival. Driving from Lincoln, Nebraska, surely Shirley, they are the long haul winners, again, though we had attendees from SoCal, Oregon and Idaho, too.

We arrived this Sunday, one day early, to avail ourselves of the Past President's Dinner at the Casino Fandango next door, a 50 foot stroll from the Marriot. This event proved to be the harbinger of Doug and Cathy Wayne's extremely well-choreographed and detailed planning that would keep us busy and entertained for the ensuing 3 days. With a welcoming luncheon followed by a "lively" Annual Business Meeting, motorcycle rides, shopping for the ladies, a visit to historic Virginia City and a fantastic barbeque at the Wayne's house close by, we never wanted for more activity or great food and drink.

Daily activities were capped off with nightly adventures, too, some by certain ladies who were often MIA from our never ending Hospitality Room libations and war stories and instead becoming bazillionaires next-door in the Casino. It would be charitable at best not to note the impossibly convoluted and circuitous maze of floor standing slot machines and poker and blackjack tables which may have contributed to their inability to see the forest for the trees and the multiple food courts, restaurants and exit signs hiding on the periphery. In their defense, a drunken Marine grunt could have more easily navigated a mine field in Viet Nam in the darkness of night during a fire-fight than this tortuous and boisterous topography of clanging bells and flashing lights!

Wednesday night's Presidents Dinner Dance emceed by Doug and DJ extraordinaire Rynell Williams was outstanding; the overwhelming abundance of door prizes had those who traveled via motorcycle sniveling, clamoring for sympathetic losers willing to carry their, IMHO, ill-gotten stash home. No mercy was shown, but the camaraderie amongst revelers was hilarious nonetheless as we enjoyed a great dinner.

Mere words cannot express my debt of gratitude to Doug Wayne, who during his tenure as President of MMOC has not only demonstrated exemplary managerial and fiscal skills but also orchestrated extremely well-choreographed and fun MMOC functions! This 91st was awesome!

Joe Friday and Bill Gannon were crime fighting super-heroes of the era, if you stretch your imagination a little. The assembled WE were no less so at the 91st Annual Convention, either. It's not exaggeration to say our revelers were vigilant 24-7; at last report the hotel, the casino and hell, all of Carson City was crime free during our visit thanks to our sworn mission: To Protect and Serve; then again, there were no tell-tale TV cameras rolling to prove otherwise! Hic.

Siren publishing date changes

Future tri-annual Siren publications will now be in:

February—June—October

Our reasons for the change were a Jan 1st issue probably is not read by all because it is lost in the holiday shuffle. Also, it is difficult for the multitude of editorial staff to perform their duties during the holidays. An October issue would allow that same editorial staff to pass-on important information from the September convention in a more timely manner.
